Dredging Almost Finished? Photo: Express Advocate

The work started 7 December, after some delay, clearing the channel from Little Box Head, past Lobster Beach and through the channel to Half Tide Rocks. As Gosford Sailing Club Sailors well know the channel had become so narrow and so shallow, that the passage of our larger boats through to Broken Bay has become severely restricted, and for many, an obstacle too limiting to even attempt on a regular basis. But in the end the decision was made to get the work done, - State and Local Government split the cost, and we are about to see the end result sometime during the week of 11 January.
